GERMANS RETREAT ON SOMME

REGISTRATION WILL BE MORE IN DETAIL

Twenty Separate Questions Regarding Citizenship and Occupation

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Aug. 28.—Prospects of the crippling of railroad operations by the drafting of skilled employees has become so serious that the railroad administration today took steps to call the situation to the attention of President Wilson and Secretary Baker with the idea of obtaining deferred classification for railroad men. More than two hundred thousand employees of the railroads already have entered the army, and reports to the Railroad Administration indicate that if future drafts take that many more the railroad will have great difficulty in operating, particularly next winter. Director General McAdoo's attitude is understood to be that railroads must be given consideration similar to that now accorded shipyards and their employees.

SUB CAPTAIN SAID WOULD SINK 8 MORE

A Canadian Atlantic Port, Aug. 28.—The crew of the submarine told the captain of the Blanca that they had sunk an oil tanker and intended to sink eight more steamers now bound for this port.

(By Associated Press)
German Forces are in southern Picardy over a wide front. After the capture of Roye by the French yesterday the German front has crumbled. The line which has held back the French and British for the last two weeks is giving way, and today's official reports show the French on a line less than three miles west of the Somme River and Canal. Thirty villages have been captured by the French in the advance which was started early Tuesday morning. Chauny, the center of the German line between Roye and the Somme River as it flows west through the battle field, has been captured and many other vital points have been taken.

While the French have been smashing the enemy's front along the Chauny-Roye line the British have swung forward in the sector east of Arras. North of the Arras-Cambrai road they have reached the outskirts of the villages of Haucourt, Reims and Holy Notre Dame, about a mile east of the position where they were known to be yesterday and well east of the Hindenburg line. South of the Somme the British have taken Foucaucourt while north of the River they have gained nearly all of Trones Weeds. In the Flanders area the British have advanced their line over a front of four miles in the area from which the Germans have been retreating for the last three weeks.

THE ALLIES TOTAL 112,000 PRISONERS

1300 Cannon and Vast Supplies Since July 1st

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Aug. 28.—The number of prisoners taken by the Allies since July 1 has passed the 112,000 mark, General March said today. In the same time the Allies captured 1,300 cannon of the field gun calibre and larger. Later dispatches to the department, Gen. March said, do not indicate any cessation in the allied ressure. The British apparently are continuing their progress on the Flanders front. Gen. March confirmed the reported advance of the Austrians in Albania resulting in the withdrawal of the Italian front east of Bert.

JUST DAVID By ELEANOR H. PORTER

Author of "Pollyanna"
Ten year old David and his father (a famous violinist) lived on a mountain, with the woods, the wild things, and their two violins. Then a change came and David was left to the care of gruff farmer folk in whom the warmth of kindness was buried deep. But "Just David" brought music and sunshine into many lives and played a part in a very pretty romance.

PORTLAND BRIDGE IS DAMAGED

(By Associated Press)

COAL COMPANIES MADE BIG PROFIT

Washington, Aug. 27.—Examination of the business records of about 250 coal-producing companies by experts of the Internal Revenue Bureau has disclosed unreported profits yielding more than $5,000,000 additional tax revenue to the Government. More than 2500 companies remain to be examined and officials expect to gather a total of $50,000,000 taxes from these sources. Some cases represent evident attempts to evade tax payments but a large proportion, officials explain, reflect difficulty by the companies' accountants in figuring the proper tax under the complicated excess profits laws.

Similar studies now are being made of woolen, oil and mining businesses. The bureau expects later to undertake examination of more than a dozen industry groups which showed exorbitant

MEXICANS FIRE ACROSS BORDER

(By Associated Press)
Nogales, Ariz., July 27.—Lieut. Col. Herman has been wounded at Nogales in a fight between his troops and the Mexican bandits on the other side and the Mexicans have lost heavily. In addition to Col. Herman, one corporal was killed and two privates wounded in the skirmish with the Mexicans.

The trouble started over the fact that an agent was engaged in passing a Mexican into the country and when discovered the soldiers on the border stopped him. This started firing and bullets kept dropping on the American side. Col. Herman was shot in the knee.

NO MORE SUNDAY JOY RIDING

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Aug. 27.—The Fuel Administration has called upon all passenger car and motor cycle owners to refrain from using gasoline on Sundays. Unless this is heeded the Administration will have to resort to drastic measures. Exception to the rule will be tractors, motor trucks, physicians' automobiles, police wagons. Cars for hire and taxi cabs are not exempt by the order.

ENGLAND'S MYSTERY SHIP

With the Grand Fleet, Aug. 27.—Visiting the Fleet this week King George inspected a "mystery" ship which is a puzzle to the enemy. Reference to her peculiarities is officially restricted to the statement that "she is an airplane carrier."

This carrier was concerned in the recent attack on the airships at Tondern. She reached a suitable point off the German coast in the small hours of the morning and a number of airplanes were sent up with the object of destroying Zeppelin hangars at Tondern.

Captain Dixon arrived at Tondern in the early hours of the morning and came so low in searching for hangars that at one time he was within 50 feet of the ground.

He found Tondern very much asleep and flew over the main street unimpeded, seeing only one human being on a farm who waved a cordial greeting.

Observing what he believed to be a hangar, Captain Dixon released a bomb from a height of 300 feet and received a shock when a munition dump exploded. He immediately made out the Zeppelin sheds and unloaded his remaining bombs which caused a fierce fire.

A heavy barrage was then put up by the enemy but Captain Dixon flew off and reached home after three hours in the air.

The barrage indicated to other attacking planes where to operate and another machine piloted by Captain Smiri, who was decorated by the King later, attacked and accounted for the second Zeppelin shed.

THIS IS A YOUNG MAN'S WAR

New York, Aug. 27.—War Camp Community Service National Headquarters says "Records show that a majority of our last million soldiers inducted into the service are boys slightly under 22 years of age. A majority of them come from the smaller cities and towns and from the rural districts. Just as their physical and moral health and strength while at home was due their in a large measure to their training and environment, so now their efficiency as soldiers must continue to depend not alone upon themselves, but on the care and attention of others. This care and attention cannot now be given by their own home folks. The home folks must pass along their activities, but not their responsibility, to the Army and Navy commissions on training camp activities.

"In order that the home influence, the home atmosphere, may be present in war camp communities, the Government has called to its assistance War Camp Community Service. The business of this service is to furnish an environment that is good; one that is normal, wholesome and healthy. With out such a force bringing this influence to bear directly in every community near which our boys are camped, or to which they come, there would spring up and flourish to the utmost all around them all of the traditional community evils. Saloons, gambling houses, dives, red light districts, prostitutes and exploiters would most certainly flourish. Every description of Jackal and camp-follower that has been the bane of the soldier's life in the past would find that they could operate without any organized opposition, were no such agency as War Camp Community Service in the field."

A GOOD DANCING TEAM

There was a large attendance at the dance held in Freeman's hall last night. A special dancing act by Jakey Hendricks and Dorothy Ann Hickey of Dorchester was well received. The general appearance of this couple and their "clean" and refined manner of dancing took the crowd. It was generally conceded that they were the best team here this season.

Whitman's orchestra furnished the music which was up to its general high standard. The management had booked this couple with Duggan and Luce, who will dance at a later date for the championship of New England.

Army regulations require a man to keep his hair as short as possible, and this rule was upheld by a judge in a New York County Court, although court rules require all men to remove

CURTAINING THE MOVIES

(By Associated Press)
Los Angeles, Aug. 27.—Few, if any, motion picture plays containing "mob or crowd" scenes will be produced in Los Angeles studios, according to producers, if a policy recently inaugurated by the police department of Los Angeles is carried out.

The police department recently announced its decision that appearing in Roman mobs, modern riots or wheat panning, was not work essential to the winning of the war and that participation in a sham battle for the films was not fighting in the sense intended by Provost Marshal General Crowder in his "work or fight" order.

The police order was directed at what the profession termed "extras" who were hired by the day, first by one company and then by another to provide "atmosphere." Most of the men thus employed were of the age and class included in his police order.

When the first warning was not generally observed, it was repeated and by way of emphasis about a hundred men waiting for employment at several studios within the city were arrested. Some of them were taken before their draft boards, others allowed to look for more useful employment while a number were held on vagrancy charges.

Let the Penalties Be Inflicted.

When the food regulations went into effect penalties for violation were prescribed and everybody knew what they were. But there have been innumerable violations and in comparatively few cases have the penalties been inflicted. Bakers have ignored the rules requiring the use of substitutes, and in most cases they have been let off with the closing of their shops for a very brief period, the posting of notices saying that they were found guilty, and their promise to offend no more. This was no punishment at all in comparison with the prescribed penalties, and it is consequently not to be wondered at that the abuse continues.

In Boston last week five hotels and one restaurant were hauled up for violating the rule pertaining to the use of sugar. It was found that the guests of the hotels had been allowed all the sugar they wanted, one of the houses at least having kept sugar bowls on the tables as in the days when there was no restriction. Sugar was used in iced coffee that had already been sweetened, and patrons who had peaches and cream had sugar to complete the toothsome combination. The simple fact is that sugar had been used in these establishments far beyond the limits of the regulations. Some of the proprietors took refuge behind their employees, saying the abuse was not permitted and that the waiters were to blame.

And what was done about it? Why, the offenders were "warned" that the practice must be stopped. They promised to stop it and that was the end of it. They were lectured about the needs of the boys in the trenches and were allowed to go, the authorities having their word for it that there will be no further offending.

These and other cases like them would be bad enough if the offenders were ignorant foreigners or persons suspected of disloyalty or want of respect for authority. But they were not. They were men fully knowing what the regulations were, loudly protesting their patriotism and willingness to do everything in their power to help win the war. And they went on using sugar as they pleased, leaving it to others to make a sacrifice that would not have been called for if it had not been necessary. And it may be added in passing that the patrons of the places where this abuse was practiced were little, if any, better than the proprietors. They knew it was against the rules and probably chuckled over the fact that they were assisting in "beating the government."

It is time that dilly-dallying with this business should be stopped. If the regulations are necessary they should be rigidly enforced; if they are not necessary they should be withdrawn. Such exposures as those mentioned, unattended by penalties, are demoralizing. How can the common people be expected to observe the rules when they believe that violations are being winked at right and left?

We are hearing a great deal these days about "morale," but it will be difficult to maintain it if the conviction becomes general that the regulations for the conservation of food are designed for the rank and file and not to be taken seriously by the "big fellows."

Torrid heat, with drought in places and highly destructive storms in others have made life uncomfortable in many parts of the East this summer, but this region is fortunate in being immune from such devastating storms as are experienced in the West. A Minnesota town was struck by a tornado the other day, the result being 35 persons killed, more than 100 injured and great damage to property. The climatic faults of this part of the country are not without their compensations.

The night school movement which is under way in this state appears to be a step in the right direction. The Americanization of our foreign elements is greatly to be desired, and the number of foreigners who have expressed a desire to study in these schools is ample warrant for going ahead with the enterprise.

Conservation of food is becoming more necessary than ever. In addition to feeding this country, the army and the Allies we are called upon to feed a steadily and rapidly increasing number of German prisoners.

Many two-cent newspapers are raising their price to three cents. The great majority of the public has little conception of the severity with which the publishing business has been hit by war conditions.

The regularity with which Liberty bonds are quoted on the New York Exchange would imply that not all holders are sticking to their purchases as strongly as they have been advised to.

Washington, Aug. 28.—Men between 18 and 45, who register under the new military law, will be required to furnish personal information much more varied and extensive than has been secured from registrants of military age in previous enrollments. A synopsis of the registration card prepared by the Provost Marshal General shows it will carry twenty separate questions. A number of the questions which the new registrants must answer deal with citizenship, exact occupation status and place of employment and names of employers, also are demanded. As a final point the card requires names and addresses of nearest relatives and place where the registrant ordinarily receives mail.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Will Make "Jack" Laugh
(From the Indianapolis News)
Of course Jack Pershing is a mighty busy man with a lot of responsibility, but now and then, he does have a little time. Senator Lewis is visiting him.

Songs of the Soil
(From the Los Angeles Times)
This is the day when every happy young member of the woman's land army is singing "If ever I marry in all my life, a farmer's bride I'll be" and when the would-be farmerettes rise at morn and sing "I dreamed I dwelt in overalls."

Who Won't Work Should Drill
(From the Manchester Union)
The more one reads about that pesky Brockton strike, the more one takes to the man-power bill amendment making it possible to transfer double-makers of the Brockton type to Camp Devens and then some.

Keep Pershing There
(From the Brooklyn Standard Union)
A statement by General March about the continuing policy of bringing home our army commanders from time to time for rest, and for utilizing here their experience in active warfare, has given rise to the understanding that perhaps even General John Pershing himself might be brought back.

Really, the public would not be pleased. Pershing is not merely one of our officers in France. In millions of American homes he stands as a sort of type or symbol of America being "over there." The words with which he uttered the grave of Lafayette are engraved in every American heart: "Lafayette, we are here." And as the song expresses it: "We won't come back till his over-our there."

Incidentally, everything we hear about Pershing deepens the impression that he is not only a great American soldier, but the ideal American commander. He is the only general who was made chief of his nation's forces in France at the beginning of the war and has remained in that place.

There he is now, and the country hopes he will stay.

Spy Stuff

(From the New York Tribune)
The young man of New England who was experimenting with a new kind of flashlight on Mount Washington and therefore was arrested may be—probably is—entirely innocent. But he had not notified any authorities of what he proposed doing, and he has earned his arrest. The authorities were entirely right to lock him up and investigate afterward.

There are two dangers with respect to "spy stuff." One is that of the nervous soul who sees a spy behind every foreign agent. The other is that of the cynic who, because spy rumors usually fall of fact, scoffs at the whole proposition.

There is a middle ground on which Americans should try to stand. There are spies and German agents loose in the New York secret service man can tell you. We owe it to our country to keep our eyes and ears open and report promptly any suspicious fact of seditious utterance. Most suspicious fall of proof naturally. But launching are now seen on pile.

RETREAT BECOMES PRECIPITATE

(By Associated Press)

Paris, Aug. 28.—The German retreat on the Somme battle field has become precipitate. The French first and third armies are at no point losing contact with the enemy. The French are inflicting heavy losses on the retreating Germans. French cavalry is harassing the retreating Germans in the Chauny region and hampering the withdrawal of the enemy forces. There is a report that Gen. Mangin's army is crossing the Ailette River.

MAKES ATTACK UPON MILLIKEN

Old Orchard, Me., Aug. 28.—Former Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston delivered a scathing denunciation of Governor Milliken at a big Democratic rally at the Seashore Theatre here Tuesday night. Among other things, he said: "Governor Milliken should be defeated by Republicans as well as by Democrats because his narrow policies in closing up moving picture shows as well as innocent amusements planned for the entertainment of working men and their families show him to be entirely out of touch with present day American tendencies. Massachusetts has been dominated largely by Republican Governors the past 25 years, yet no such narrow policies as Governor Milliken carries on in this state have been advocated by any of these men."

Our present Governor, Samuel W. McCall, a staunch Republican, who has had an experience of 25 years in the politics of the country, insists upon the broadest interpretation of Sunday laws. In order that people who work hard all the week may have abundant opportunities for the relaxation of themselves and families on Sundays, Nantasket Beach and Haverhill, which are controlled by the state offer most abundant opportunities for innocent pleasures on Sunday. At the capital of the nation, Washington, Sunday baseball is encouraged. It is no wonder that under leadership of this kind the State of Maine, though covering a larger area than all the other New England states combined, has a population about the size of Boston. This man, Mr. Milliken, rides around town on Sunday in his automobile, yet he refuses the child of the workman the chance to ride a hobby horse."

BIG FIRE AT REVERE BEACH

(By Associated Press)

Revere, Mass., Aug. 23.—Five early today destroyed two hotels, several residences and a number of amusement resorts at Revere Beach. For a time the entire beach front was threatened. Firemen from this city, Boston, Chelsea, Lynn and Winthrop fought the flames for four hours. The property damage was estimated at $200,000. Ten firemen on the roof of a flimsy amusement structure were burned and overcome by heat and smoke when an explosion occurred within the building. One fireman could not be found after the explosion. The fire started in an amusement building known as the Virginia Reel. Other amusement buildings destroyed included the Pitt and Nautical Gardens. The hotels burned were the Garland House and the Metropolitan Hotel, landmarks of the beach.

Rev. W. H. Eaton of Providence, R.I. At 10:30 an address was given by Dr. George B. Dean of Philadelphia, which was the first in a series on "The Church in the War," to be given at the same hour during the week. In the afternoon the pentecostal services were conducted by Rev. H. W. Hook of Haverhill, Mass., and the children's meeting by Miss R. Olive Halford. These followed the evangelistic meetings by J. Clarence Leckemby and in the evening addresses by Mr. Leckemby and Rev. Rollin S. Tuttle of Portsmouth.

For Thursday a special program is arranged it being Women's day, when there will be a prohibition rally.

Jacob H. Gallinger was the sixth United States Senator from New Hampshire to die in office, while eight have resigned before finishing the terms to which they were elected. Of these vacancies nine were filled by ad interim appointments by the governor, such as Governor Keyes is called upon to make of a temporary successor to Senator Gallinger, and in the other cases the legislature made the necessary special elections. John P. Hale and his son-in-law, the late William E. Chandler, were among those elected to the senate to fill out unexpired terms, while Governor Percival C. Cheney and Charles H. Bell were among those appointed by other governors to act as senators for a few months, pending action by the legislature. Isaac Hall resigned from the senate to become governor and the resignation of Franklin Pierce was followed, though not until a decade later, by his election to the presidency of the United States. Most of these temporary appointments have been for but a few months, as in the present instance, but their recipients are just as securely enrolled among United States senators from New Hampshire as those who served a dozen years or more.

NEW $1 AND $2 BILLS OUT

Washington, Aug. 23.—Two new greenbacks—the first of the nation's war time currency—are in circulation. They are the $1 and $2 Federal Reserve Bank notes, planned especially to replace the silver certificates withdrawn from circulation as the treasury's silver reserve is melted into bullion for export to the allies.

The $1 note bears a portrait of George Washington in the upper left hand corner of the face side, and otherwise resembles generally a federal reserve note.

On the reverse side is shown in a central oval an eagle in full flight, typifying the nation mobilized for war.

The $2 note is similar, except that it bears a portrait of Thomas Jefferson on the front and a picture of a battleship on the back.

Mid-Summer Reductions Clean-Cut Saving in Summer Stock

Despite existing trade conditions, this is a real old fashioned mark-down event which is bound to whet the appetite of the keenest bargain hunter. The price reductions are genuine through and through and will exceed the expectations of the most economical shopper, because of the fact that this month we simply must clear all out the remaining summer stock and that fall and winter goods are pressing hard for recognition. We are showing scant courtesy to former prices, thereby offering fine bargains to those economically wise people who know extraordinary values when they see them. Are you one of them?

ALL WELLS GOING TO HALL'S HEARING

Blideford, Me., Aug. 28.—The little town of Wells is threatened with being well-nigh deserted Thursday, as virtually the entire population seems to be planning to go to Kennebunk for the hearing of Henry H. Hall, parson of a Wells church, who is charged with the murder of his wife.

In the meantime attorneys for both sides are working quietly and saying little. Judge Emery, the evangelist's counsel, reiterated today his confidence in being able to free Hall at the hearing.

County Attorney Franklin R. Chesley would say nothing but "wait, for the hearing." Today Judge Emery visited his client at the Alfred jail.

Chester Tuesday night denied that he had ever told a Boston newspaperman that Hall was about to leave Wells to keep an appointment to marry Grace Herow when he was arrested. He denied that he ever said that the State had obtained evidence

At one point of a road recently constructed in Alaska there is a solid ice foundation. At the surface there is a two-foot layer of moss and tundra, but previous mining operations at this point proved that there is a 40-foot bed of clear ice and six feet of gravel between the surface layer and bedrock.

ATLANTICS TAKE A GAME FROM THE P. A. C.

SUNSET LEAGUE STANDING.

| Y. M. C. A. | 4 | 11 | .268 |

The Atlantics defeated the P. A. C. team in the Sunset League on Tuesday evening in a rattling good game by the score of 1-0. The pitching of Horan for the P. A. C. and O'Brien for the winners were the features of the game.

O'Brien was working in fine form and not only did he allow the former champions but two hits, but struck out ten men. Horan allowed the heavy hitting steel ship builders but five hits and struck out five men.

It was a well played game, neither side scoring an error and there were many brilliant plays. Ralph Brackett played a fine game for the Atlantics and Bailey, who caught for the P. A. C., was in fine form and played a fast game.

It was the fourth inning that Horan lost his game. He passed Darneson and advanced him to second on a wild pitch, but he was nailed going to third. Swasey was hit by a pitched ball. Brackett struck out; Pilgrim was given free transportation to first and Gouville singled scoring Swasey and O'Brien was thrown out by Horan. They got three men on in the second but Horan lightened up and fanned the other two men.

The P. A. C. really did not have a chance to score. In the first inning Horan hit for three bases but he was nailed trying to make it a circuit. In the fifth they got a man on with a single, but he was forced at second and the others fanned.

The ship launching on Saturday was a great success. Crowds of people came from far and near, by auto, boat, train, team and on foot. The number assembled to several thousand when assembled in the shipyard on the banks of the Piscataqua. After a little time was spent by the workmen in removing the blocks, etc., the Haverhill glided out into the water while the large crowd cheered most heartily. Among those present were many prominent men of the state. Mrs. Keyes, the wife of our governor, read a poem of her composition and as the ship was released from the ways she christened it. The scene will never be forgotten by the spectators and now we have four ships at anchor on the Piscataqua. Work is being rushed and one or more will now soon be en route for Portland to have the machinery installed.

BRILLIANT SPEAKER COMING

Mrs. Basil Clarke was living in Brussels at the outbreak of the war when the German army eight hundred thousand strong, moved down all Belgium. She was in the City of Brussels the day the troops marched in and has witnessed the untold suffering of the Belgians, the unspeakable atrocities, and was a potent factor in assisting in the relief of the suffering, when Herbert Hoover took command of relief work. Mrs. Clarke's two sons assisted the commission for relief of Belgians.

Mrs. Basil Clarke is a native of Kentucky. Although a mother of two sons, who are now in the Army, and for some years a widow, she has the beauty and charm of youth. Like all Kentuckians she has that delightful way of speaking, so characteristic of all true Kentuckians. There is no woman in America today who has so deeply stirred the people to a realization of the war as Mrs. Clarke has been able to do. Wherever she has appeared since her return visits are greeted by thousands. At the big meeting scheduled in "Mint" some weeks ago thousands packed the largest hall in town and while other thousands waited patiently in the next largest place to hear the wonderful message.

In Lansing, Michigan, Prudden Auditorium was packed to the doors and many were unable to gain admittance. No such crowd has greeted a speaker since Roosevelt visited Lansing in 1901. All through the Northwest the people went wild about her patriotic appeal; the news traveled ahead of her so that thousands flocked to hear her and those who were turned away were not satisfied unless they were able to get a glimpse of this courageous little woman. All through the states of Illinois, Wisconsin, Idaho, North Dakota, Colorado, Utah, Wyoming, Montana, the citizens will turn out en masse to hear Mrs. Clarke.

At the time when Belgium was being devastated by the German Army, Mrs. Clarke opened her home in Brussels as a Red Cross Hospital and herself acted as a Red Cross nurse.

She will be heard at Portsmouth Theatre Thursday evening.

It will soon be time for the Rockingham A. C. to begin activities. Some good shows like the ones the club has staged in the past should make a hit with the fans about now.

FORMER PASTOR OF MANCHESTER ON NAVY YARD

Rev. E. B. Gearhart in Navy Yard Position.

Rev. Edmund B. Gearhart, former pastor of the First Unitarian church in Manchester, has accepted a government position in the navy yard.

Following his application for employment by the government, agents of the department of justice were sent to Manchester to investigate charges made concerning the loyalty of Mr. Gearhart which resulted in his resignation from his parish last winter.

Exonerated from any suspicion of disloyalty has been given by the government officials and the leader of a position in the navy yard followed the findings immediately. He entered the employment on Monday as a general helper.

THE HERALD HEARS

That a large number of people at Alton Day gathered in the square near the Camp Ground on Tuesday evening to join in the chorus of the "Star Spangled Banner."

That it was hard to convince several men on a platform nearby to show respect by taking off their hats.

That one man in particular could see no reason for removing the lid.

That a Portsmouth man got at him first but it seemed to have no effect and he still kept his dome covered.

That some of the patriotic people in the crowd grow nervous and it looked as if there would be a clash.

That a sailor then took a hand with no better results.

That finally the police appeared and the man who evidently did not know or care for the National Anthem dashed the headgear.

That the primary election occurs on Tuesday next.

That a light vote is expected in this city.

WENT BACK TO WORK IN STYLE

Police Wagon One Way and a Touring Car on the Return Trip.

Andrew Skupura and John Berant, two Polish workmen at the Atlantic Heights, had a merry session with old John Barleycorn on Monday night. They didn't care who went without sleep and kept up the merriment until they got themselves arrested. When the peaceable occupants of the car on the heights thought they had had enough of the open air and moonlight vaudeville, they told the police to come over and plug down the curtain. Capt. Burke and Patrolman McLean arrived for the last act and found John and Andrew taking a dew bath in the tall grass at 3 a. m. They had on just a little more than a safety pin and a smile when the cops picked out a seat for them in the city hall palanquin.

Today when the police turned them loose they were without coat, vest, hat, shoes and stockings. "We don't want to get arrested, Chief," they said to Marshal Hickey. "We want to ride back to the Heights."

The chief told them that the police jitney only carried inbound passengers. "Well, send out for an auto to take us over."

A big 7-passenger touring car was none too good and they went back to work in style.

Per Order,
JAMES J. HICKORY, G. K.

PORTSMOUTH SHOULD GIVE HIM BIG VOTE

There is every reason why Portsmouth should give Governor Henry W. Keyes a big vote for U. S. Senator. Of all the candidates he is the best qualified. He has been a loyal friend of Portsmouth and has labored in and out of season for our growth. He has at personal sacrifice put in his time here in the interest of every movement for a bigger Portsmouth. When asked to interest himself in the ship building projects he made immediate response and rendered valuable assistance.

HIS FIRST GLIMPSE OF THE ATLANTIC

Elbert H. Howell of Russellville, Arkansas, is the guest of his son, George E. Howell and family of Austin street.

Mr. Howell Sr. is connected with the Daily Democrat of Russellville and is on his first visit east, having not seen his son for sixteen years. He is much pleased with Portsmouth and its environment and is enjoying little trips in this vicinity. Although 67 years old he has never before seen the ocean, having always lived in the interior. His first glimpse of the Atlantic was one of admiration.

INJURIES PROVE FATAL TO BOY

Alfred T. Buiway, aged 16, died at the Portsmouth hospital today as the result of a fall at the Atlantic Corporation on Monday where he was employed as a rivet heater. He came here from Boston and has been employed at the plant but a few months.
